RECREATIONSALL READY FOR
"ONE NIGHT OFF"

Ferris Hartman is here, the stage is set and nothing remains but the tap of the orchestra leader to start "One Night Off" to moving on the board of the Opera House tonight. The character which Hartman is to assume is said to fit him like a glove. He is the hand, and the rest of the company of twenty-five players and songsters are said to be equally well provided with clever lines and catchy music of the light and airy variety. Hartman's introductory song was written specially for him by Jack Rayner, and is full of pleasing melody and humorous suggestion of the sort well known to German comedians on the American stage.

One of the most charming personalities with the Hartman aggregation of pretty girls and agile men, is Miss Daisie Holt, a soprano of rare range and power, who will take the leading woman's role. Then of course there are others, the chief of whom is the famous "Muggins Davis," prince of good fellows and darling of the gallery where ever she goes. She is expected to reproduce here the many successes she has made in the last few years in Los Angeles, New York and elsewhere, especially when as the most prominent figure in the eastern production of the Prince of Pilsen she tickled the jaded palate of the first nighters in New York, and made good in a five months run in London. Walter De Leon will also have an opportunity to show just what he can do with a Hawaiian crowd when the curtain rolls up tonight.

CRACKER FACTORY STARTS IN HILO

One of the latest concrete evidences of Hilo's growth is the erection and opening of the Crescent City Cracker Company on Front street. The business is under the management of R. T. Ludloff, who for fifteen years held down a similar job at Love's Bakery, in Honolulu. The plant is up to date in every respect and the material from which the crackers are made is not handled from the time it goes into the mixing bin until the toasted delicacies are turned out. Machinery does the whole thing. The latest patent in oil burners is placed under the big oven and thus there is always an even heat and no smoke and dirt to get mixed in with the crackers. The big over has six shelves which are revolved by turning a handle just alongside the opening. The crackers are placed on the shelf and by the time it has come round again and the others have been filled they are ready to be packed away in the cans and boxes.

Running at its full capacity, the factory can turn out 36,000 crackers a day. This is far more than there is any call for at the present time, however, and the output is restricted to 15,000.

These are made and cooked during the morning, while in the afternoon the bakers get busy making bread.—Hawaii Herald.

PEPEKEO HOSPITAL.

The Pepeekeo hospital is placing a wide veranda around the nurse's apartments and the private cottage is being connected to the operating room by a pavilion. A skylight is being put in the operating room and a small house for the laundry boiler is being built. A tennis court under the mango tree in front of Dr. Troutman's house is also under construction.

This hospital is the joint property of the Onouka, Pepeekeo and Honouliuli sugar companies, and has been splendidly equipped at a great expense for the free treatment and care of their employees. Miss Spaulding, the nurse, and Dr. Troutman are very proud of the equipment afforded them and all the plantation people are glad to have such a modern institution at their very doors. At present there are nine patients in the wards, medical and operative cases, all of whom are in need of hospital care and could not be properly treated in their homes. To the visitor it is at once apparent that this hospital is a most valuable institution to the employees of these three plantations, and it would be a splendid thing if all the sugar companies afforded their help as nice and comfortable a resort in times of sickness and disability.—Hawaii Herald.

HILO GUARDS COMING.

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are marching.

This will be the call that Hilo will hear next Monday afternoon when the local company of the National Guard falls in at the Armory at 2 o'clock in readiness for its trip to Honolulu where a week at the instruction camp will be the order of the day.

The company will be in command of First Lieutenant Jack Easton, who will have with him Second Lieutenant H. Morehead and Second Lieutenant J. S. Caceres, ratification of whose appointment and the commission in connection with which reaching here yesterday morning.

The boys will have stop over privileges on their tickets and should have a good time on the trip.—Hawaii Herald.

LEASEHOLD IS SOLD HIGH TO
H. M. VON HOLT

Again upsetting the pessimistic predictions of real estate men, Land Commissioner Joshua Tucker, after boosting the upset price of the Nanaia plantation leasehold from $570 to $750, proceeded to sell the lease at noon today for four times the upset value—$2980 being the price finally accepted from H. M. Von Holt.

This is merely another of the remarkable list of high prices for public lands that the Land Commissioner has been receiving at his auctions during the last three months, all of which have been far beyond the values that were freely predicted would be offered, before the actual sale occurred.

"They told me I was crazy when I raised the upset price on this particular leasehold from $570 to $750," said Tucker, "and then they declared I was a fit subject for the asylum when I went further and guessed that it would be sold for at least $2500."

It didn't take more than fifteen minutes to boost the price from the upset price, at which the auction opened, to the final figure. F. W. Avarillane, Charles Bellina, Frank E. Thompson and Von Holt all were anxious to obtain the lease, and by leaps of $100 per bid they hastily shot the value up to $2800. This, despite the fact that the lease contained many provisions concerning home-steading, the cutting of timber, etc., favorable to the Territory, and a fifteen year contract which also will have a provision that it may be terminated if the Territory chooses, at the end of ten years.

The price, $2980, is the annual rental that must be paid for a tract of 2350 acres of land at Nansakuli, Waianae, Oahu, to be used for grazing purposes only.

Link McCandless was one of the interested though inactive spectators, watching the sale with hungry eyes but keeping a firm control over his hand hunger and declining to make a bid.

PORTO RICAN DESIRE FOR EDUCATION TAXES
U. S. SAYS INSTRUCTOR

More Pupils Enrolled in Island Schools Than Government Can Accommodate

NEW YORK, August 5.—"More pupils are enrolled in the public schools of Porto Rico than the government can accommodate. All are ambitious to learn English, which is gradually supplanting Spanish on the island."

These two important factors have been found to exist by Miss Marion Farnham, who has been one of the American teachers in the island possession the last two years and who is now visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Farnham, at 15 Ganet street, Malden. Miss Farnham has just been elected instructor in art at the University of Porto Rico—also a government institution—and will commence teaching there again Sept. 23, sailing from New York the week previous. She has been teaching in the continuation schools conducted by the government, having been graduated from Malden high, class of 1907, and the Massachusetts Normal Art School, class of 1911.

Miss Farnham was engaged by the government as a teacher in manual training in the schools in Porto Rico and was stationed in Coamo. Upon her arrival she started to teach manual training.

"I was told by the Spanish people there," says Miss Farnham, "that if they wanted their sons to become carpenters and their daughters to become seamstresses, they would send them to me with that request. Otherwise they wanted them to learn English and arithmetic. There were some excellent manual training implements, but at first there were no classes and so the government, through the department of education on the island, decided to dispose of the outfit."

"AUTOMATIC CASHIER" BROUGHT TO HONOLULU

A development of the cash register that is attracting much attention here is down at Bruce Cartwright's office on Merchant street. It is an automatic cashier, by which pay-rolls may be made out in exceedingly rapid time, cash and change handed out as speedily as buttons can be pressed and a register made of transactions somewhat on the principle of an automatic adding-machine. P. E. Muraine, of Portland, Oregon, arrived here last week and expects to place a local agency. Mr. Muraine is making his first trip to the islands and expects to come here next winter on a pleasure tour. He represents the United States Cashier Company, which produces the machines.

"HOW TO KNOW GOD" WILL BE SERMON SUBJECT

"How to Know God," the basic question of religion, is the sermon subject chosen by the Rev. Mr. Frank L. Goodspeed, D. D., for tomorrow evening's service at the Bijou theatre. Special music by a mixed quartette will be a feature of the meeting, the fourth of the series, and an invitation has been extended to all to attend.

ANOTHER HENRIQUEZ SHOOTING TROUBLE.

It would seem well for the family of J. G. Henriquez, the well known Kona man, to sell out its stock of firearms, for he seems to be getting into trouble through these continually. One son is now under indictment; charged with having shot a Japanese; and on Thursday, Aug. 9, another son got into trouble through shooting a part-Hawaiian boy, named A. Smith, with a twenty-two caliber parlor rifle. In this case the shooting appears to have been accidental.

Owing to the unreliability of communication between Hilo and South Kona the reports which reached police headquarters have been somewhat divergent. It appears, as a matter of fact, that when the police in Kona first took the matter up, the wounded boy tried to throw them off the track.

According to the last report received by Sheriff Pua, Antonio Henriquez, a sixteen year old boy, went with several of his brothers to get some papayas. He took his small rifle with him, and as he walked along he took shots at birds. The last of these shots hit young Smith, the bullet taking effect in the thigh a short distance above the knee. Henriquez claims that he did not see Smith when he fired the shot, and it appears on the whole that the shooting was entirely accidental.—Hilo Tribune.

PATRON OF BASEBALL.

We understand that Manager Ogg of Mahala gave the ball team of that place $50 to help pay its running expenses. But with some people, it's different. What would you think of a man that would object to a nice, healthy, clean game of ball about two blocks from his house, but who had a few months previous signed a Chinaman's application for a liquor license, and consented to the saloon being located within one block of his house?—Kohala Midget.
